Students

A combination of experience and youthful enthusiasm came to Harbor this year in the form of nine new faculty members. Mrs. Edith Reichert took over as a typing and shorthand instructor and with it the AFS club. Girls' physical education, health, the GAA club, and girls' basketball are coached by Mrs. Jennifer Lautanen and Mrs. Crena Baker. Kurt Nordquest and Bernard Pandora infused new blood into the history department; Raymond Moore joined the math staff. The choir initiated a money-making project, selling candles, with the help of Mrs. Norma Lillie. The science department is now aided by Andrew Isco and Robert Josson, who started a pep club to promote spirit throughout the school.

Late for class again?!

Each September brings on another new and different school year. The "hallowed halls of Harbor High" are besieged with hundreds of students trying to get to their classes and tackling their always-too-small lockers. Everyone has new classes with different teachers and different experiences.

Each of the four classes had much to do ahead of them. The freshmen had to learn which staircase was up and which was down. The sophomores had to work on great money-making projects. The juniors had the tremendous task of creating something that looked like a prom. And last but not least, were the seniors who had finally made it to the top and had to decide what to do after graduating.

Conditions

Due to overcrowding and health conditions, the lunch room was moved from the hallway and Room 8 to the gym lobby. With the change in location came a change in furniture with new lunch tables. Most agree that the conditions are much better, except for the fact that the students must leave the building to reach the lobby. This is especially uncomfortable in the winter.

I can't believe I ate the whole thing!

You know, boys, we really should get to work.

This year brought new equipment to the school. The football department received two new blocking sleds, one a 4-man and the other a 7-man. These were donated by the Athletic Boosters. Two new basketball scoreboards were put in use on January 3 as a memorial to recently retired gym teacher Jane Clark who was killed in an auto accident September 21. The scoreboards were paid for by the athletic department, the GAA, and the Jane Clark Memorial Fund. The band purchased two new white sousaphones and drums with the help of the Music Boosters. The audio-visual club made a new podium for the auditorium. New specimens were received by the biology department, and the English department got new literature books.

National Events Affect Us

That was a bad joke, Mark!

Brad, don't choke! We might win the game yet.

Here

Many national events occurred during the 1974-75 school year that affected the students of Harbor High School. For the first time in American history a U.S. President resigned, leaving us with an unelected President and Vice-President. The economy has slumped into a recession that is the worst since the Depression of the 1930's, making it hard for students to find part-time jobs after school. Accompanying the recession is a spiraling inflation, making it even harder to stretch our dollars to buy what we want. Because none of us are suffering too badly, however, these changes seem remote.

Today is really a boring day, isn't it?

CHANGE

This year has been full of many changes, but the one thing that still has not changed is our building. We continue to go on even with sixty-four-year-old classrooms. Sometimes learning may get difficult with these facilities, but with resourceful teachers and receptive students, we have all overcome the problem. Though we have a dull environment, we compensate by shining in our academics, activities, and athletics.

Mr. Jossion, are you really the Easter Bunny?

New friends are a happy change in every school year. Sometimes it is due to new people moving into our school system; mostly it is due to the incoming freshmen. With them come a freshness of youth and optimism not always found in the upperclassmen. It is amusing to watch new students trying to find their ways around, but they soon learn and are ready to laugh at the next bunch of new students.

Old friends often move away, leaving a space that can never be filled. We miss them but new friends help us learn to accept it, and often we see them again.

Pucker up, sweetie!

Times

Through the years there is a change in the people and equipment at Harbor High School, but fun never changes. For those who have cars, summertime brings trips to Geneva-on-the-Lake and drive-ins. Others enjoy swimming and various activities near the lake.

Many attend football games during the fall, basketball and wrestling during the winter, and track and tennis matches in the spring.

There is always something to do for fun, even if it is just getting together at a friend's house to listen to records and watch TV.

Long-time Teacher Is Honored

Mr. Oliver Kaura came to Harbor High School seventeen years ago as the band director. He brought with him many diversified musical talents and an understanding of young people.

At Harbor Mr. Kaura initiated the Pops Concert in 1966 and the return of Harbor graduates as guest directors for the Spring Concert. He keeps active in the community by directing the Bethany Lutheran Church choir. Two of his greatest accomplishments are to belong to the American School Band Directors Association and to have received the Spark Plug of the Month Award in 1972.

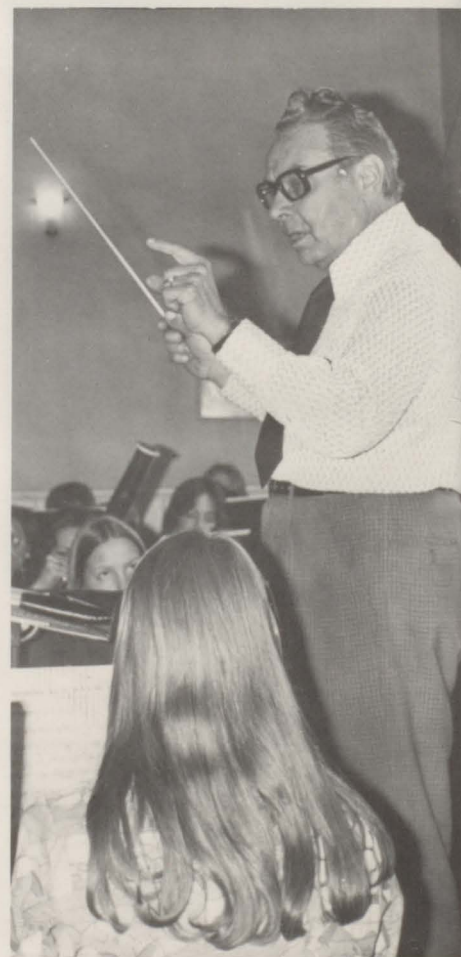

The 1975 Mariner staff dedicates this yearbook to Mr. Oliver Kaura. Though he is not in direct contact with the majority of the students, his talent, humor and guidance have affected the lives of many people for years.

The Class of 1975

One of the things just about every senior does as he nears the end of his high school career is to look back over the years and recall some of the highlights along the way.

Most of us can remember fairly clearly that day when we first walked into the doors of Harbor High School. We were labeled with the title of being one of the worst classes in the history of Harbor High. Now, as seniors, we hope that we have proved our title to be a fraud.

Our first year was full of the excitements of finally being in high school and we listened intently to our freshman class officers. When we finally got organized, we chose the colors to represent our class for the next three years—black, green, and gold.

Anxious to receive our class rings, we broke tradition and received them during our sophomore year. Now, every class has followed the tradition which we set. Our class got smaller when many left their junior year to attend the Vocational School.

Candles Lead Projects

Whether at Harbor or at the Vocational School, among the memories are the countless hours and energy spent working on our class projects.

As freshmen, we sold decorative candles which went into the homes of many residents in the Harbor area. They also added a cheerful touch to rooms throughout the household and made nice gifts.

Earning Money Toward a Prom

Trails of soap bubbles seen around the area were traced back to the cases of Rex soap which we sold as our second big project. Junior class candy bars disappeared from room 212 into the hands of many hungry buyers as our final project.

One of the hassles we faced as juniors was the change in tradition for our junior-senior prom. Because of fire regulations, we were forced to hold our "dream night" at the Ashtabula Hotel.

Flowers and various types of bushes enhanced the theme "Spring Garden." Though faced with hardships, our prom turned out to be a success!

Entertainments That Occupy Our Spare Time

School life isn't the only thing that takes up the seniors' time. Remember the great movies. The biggest one about a couple of con artists was "The Sting." "American Graffiti" was also full of laughs and excitement.

1975 was also the year of the disaster movies. "Airport 75," "Earthquake," and "The Towering Inferno" were released. Seniors went back to the 40's by watching a musical collage, "That's Entertainment."

Football, Movies Are Interests

On TV Valerie Harper swept the ratings as "Rhoda." "The Godfather" and the "Poseidon Adventure" finally made it to television. "The Sound of Music," one of the biggest grossers ever, was due to appear late in '75. "Monday Night Football" enthralled many a Harborite as they neglected homework to watch the action. This football craze reached its climax with the clash between the Minnesota Vikings and the Pittsburgh Steelers at the Super Bowl. Speaking of football, with the Rose Bowl came the defeat of Ohio State University by USC.

Day in and day out, the radio dinned into the willing ears of most seniors. The current most popular tunes were "I Honestly Love You," "Wishing You Were Here," "Clap For The Wolfman," and "Kung-Fu Fighting."

As graduation time was drawing near, we voted on our senior announcements and chose a bold purple H with a gold torch flaming through it. Along with ordering our announcements, many other items such as senior keys, miniature diplomas, and memory books were available.

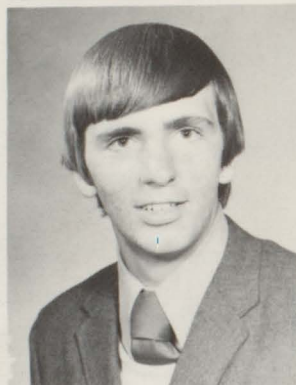

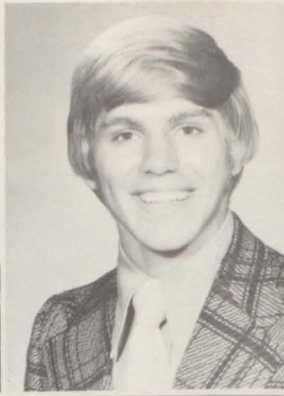

Take that look out of your eye, Cheryl.

Plan for Graduation; Look to the Future

Long lines and tape measures are reflections of the anxious students waiting to be measured for caps and gowns. There was no question as to who would have the longest gown, but who was going to have the biggest cap?

Who knows what the future holds for us now—jobs, college, technical schools, or whatever. In future years, we will all look back to these memories of Harbor High School as times we will always remember.

Ann Lives in Our Memories

Among the many changes that the class of 1975 has experienced is the gaining of new friends and acquaintances and, unfortunately, the loss of old ones. Some move away and perhaps are seen again; some we may never see again, as in the case of Ann Schroeder, who was killed in a plane crash during the summer of 1969.

Ann had been in our class from kindergarten through the sixth grade. Although many of us did not have the chance to know Ann, those who did will never forget her warmth and good nature. Ann always got the most out of life, and she will always live in our memories.

The Top Ten academically are also active in many areas of school life.

They work hard in band, clubs, sports, and yearbook staff. Some hold offices. Most give much service to Student Council, NHS, and AFS.

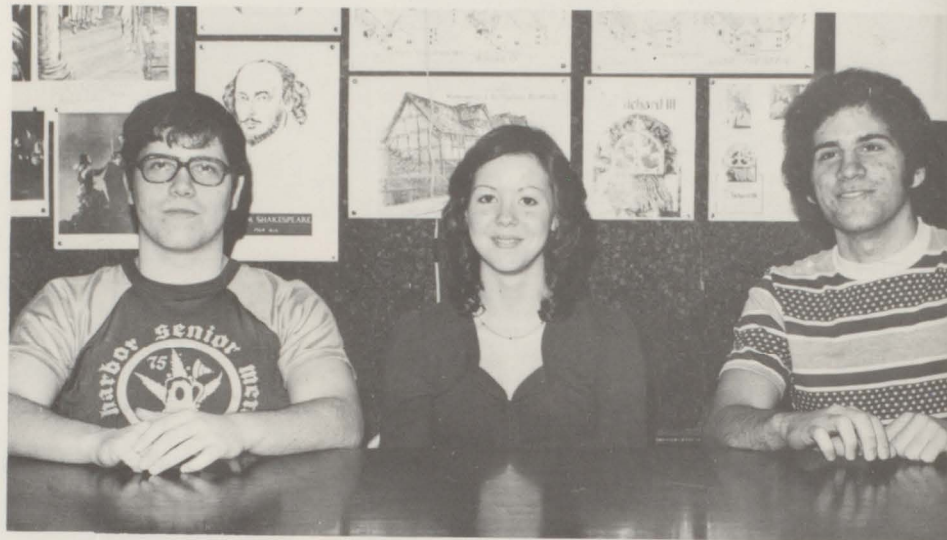

These students spend a great deal of their time, not only hitting the books, but helping school and community.

Academic Team Represents Harbor on TV

In September seventeen seniors took part in tryouts for Harbor's Academic Challenge Team. Mr. Robert Huff asked questions on history, English, science, math, and general categories. Six finalists were chosen on a basis of knowledge and quick answers.

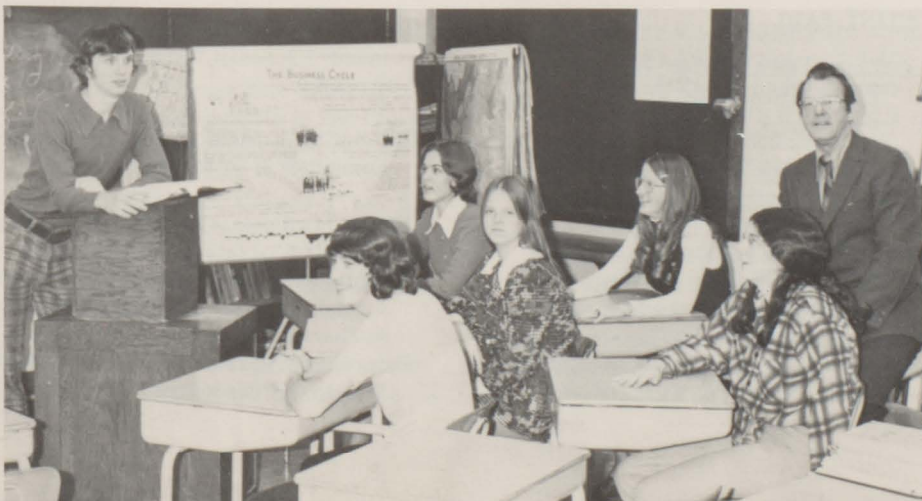

The finalists practiced twice a week until they were called to tape the show on November 24. The team competed against Lordstown and Jackson high schools. Before an enthusiastic audience the team placed third and won for Harbor two books of Sir Walter Scott. The program is sponsored by the CEI-Ohio Edison Companies with quiz-master Don Webster.

Which way'd they go, Dave?

Enthusiasm Abounds

The junior class, known as being the most enthusiastic the school has known in a long time, built up the biggest treasury ever to finance the 1975 junior-senior prom.

Their freshman year found them busy selling magazine subscriptions. Pies, cakes, cookies, and everything good was found at the numerous bake sales they sponsored shortly after the magazine sale.

Mints and peanut butter candies were distributed by the boxful as they continued to bring in the money their sophomore year.

Zapp did it again!

John says, "Here I am to save the day!"

Prom Becomes A Reality

Changing the tradition of the annual junior class candy sale, they sold Mariner decals this year which showed up days later stuck to books, car windows, lockers, and almost everything.

Responsible for helping the juniors along the way were class advisers, Mr. Richard Pavolino, Mr. Dean McQuaide, and Miss Margaret Dimacchia.

They helped the officers organize money-raising projects and saw that they were carried out smoothly. They also kept the finances in order.

Spirit Will Carry Us on

As freshmen and sophomores the class showed the most class spirit and walked away with the spirit award, along with many others, during the class tournaments held each year in the spring. The class of '76, with their journey almost completed, continues to have the greatest spirit ever.

Beat out that tune, Brenda.

Determination Drives Sophomores Ahead

The sophomore class found themselves changing from the "harassees" to the "harassers" as they started their second year with a new feeling of superiority and determination to carry on the tradition of tormenting freshmen.

Mrs. Nancy Hunt and Mr. Mike Lombard, the class advisers, aided the officers in organizing a very successful candy sale which started the first of October and finished up in January. Mr. Lombard helped promote the sale by selling candy in his history classes to hungry students. At least he didn't have to listen to those growling noises anymore—for awhile anyway!

Projects Number Many

Goodies galore could be found at the annual bake sale, which was just one of the many other projects carried out by the sophomores. Wet clothes and soap everywhere were discovered at the annual car wash held for juniors and seniors on prom day. Who could have resisted a friendly little sponge throwing contest!

On a hectic day in mid-October, sophomores crowded the main hallway, selecting class ring styles and waiting in line to place their orders.

Sophomores were seen waving their hands about in order to show off their new rings when they arrived in late winter.

Class Is Tradition Follower

Each year, the sophomore class is probably the most bent on revenge in the school, and this year's class is certainly not going to change it. As freshmen, they always complained among themselves about the upper-classmen and were more than ready and willing to drop that tradition which plagues freshmen every year. Yet, once they turned sophomores, their grievances were forgotten and tradition continued.

The sophomore class also continues to carry its spirit throughout the halls of Harbor.

Freshman Class Brings Spirit

What seems to be so boring, girls?

Through the years at Harbor there is one thing that remains constant—the inborn spirit of the freshman class. Despite their greatest handicap of being harrassed by upperclassmen, they seem to hold their heads high. It is a yearly tradition that the freshmen have been noted for their uncontrollable and effervescent enthusiasm in relation to their school life.

Freshmen Put Energy to Use

The class of '78 made their way into the hearts of many Harborites as they constantly surprised the older student body with their reminder of what spirit really is.

Their freshman year proved to be an exciting one as they got into the swing of high school activities.

Freshmen could be found adding their spirit and enthusiasm to almost every club in the school, especially the Pep Club.

Freshmen also actively participated in backing up the teams by attending most of the football and basketball games in large numbers.

The freshmen yet have many lessons to learn, especially finding that there is no elevator in the broom closet.

Class Kept Busy by Endeavors

The election of class officers found the class busy earning money for their prom already. Money-making projects found freshmen following the tradition that the junior class set by selling magazine subscriptions. Bake sales, car washes, sales at games, and other projects kept them quite busy throughout the year.

Advisers Benefit Class

Much of the credit of the class of '78 goes to the many helpful teachers who worked with them as advisers.

One of the teachers, Mr. John Higgins, sums up the class as "very energetic." He also added that "the class officers show excellent leadership."

The Standouts— Freshmen

Besides Mr. Higgins, other advisers of the spirited '78 er's are Mrs. Encie Moroski, Mrs. Susan Incorvia, Mr. Frank Roskovics, and Mr. Robert Short.

Throughout their years at Harbor, the freshmen will continue to stand out in the crowd.

Let's get some spirit!

Junior class officers are Jeanette Olsen, secretary; Brett Horvath, president; Linda Lee, treasurer; and Beckie Ray, vice-president.

Senior class officers are Darrell Ovak, treasurer; Cheryl Regner, secretary; Bruce Berteau, vice-president; and Kevin Lillie, president.

Officers Lead Classes Through Many Changes

Each year, the students elect four class officers from their class to represent them during the year. Each officer is responsible to help plan and organize the money-making projects and traditional activities, aided by their class advisers. The freshman class had a magazine sale in the spring, and the sophomore officers did a fine job handling their candy sale during the fall and winter months. Junior officers were busy organizing this year's prom. Senior officers decided what to do with the remainder of their treasury upon graduating in June.

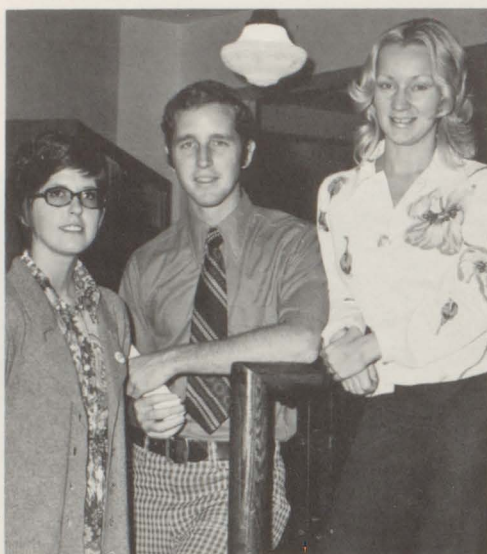

Advisers Oversee Class Activities

Class advisers are assigned to every incoming freshman class and stay with them until they graduate. Their job is to meet with the class officers, approve of their money-making projects and help get things organized. They supervise all class-sponsored activities and handle the over-all financing so that the money is not lost or spent wastefully.

The freshman and sophomore class advisers mainly help the students raise money to sponsor the prom in their junior year. The junior class advisers have the job of making sure the students know what they're doing when they plan the prom, and the senior class advisers help them think of a useful project to spend the rest of the money on. All advisers are asked to chaperone the different functions.

But you've got to have money for the Prom!

Junior class advisers are Jennifer Lautanen, Dean McQuaide, Margaret Dimacchia, and Richard Pavolino.

Sophomore class advisers are Coye Wilfong, Carolyn Stevenson, Nancy Hunt, Frances Flood, Michael Lombard, and Andrew Isco.

Senior class advisers are Barbara Kunes, Robert Josson, and Crena Baker.

Administration Strives To Improve City Schools

Behind the changes that occur at Harbor and other Ashtabula Area City Schools are the superintendent, Mr. Jack Rumora; the business manager, Mr. Sam Merriman; and the clerk of the board, Mrs. Lillian Sylvester.

Mr. Rumora is mainly responsible for budgeting finances, recommending people to be hired, and for arranging the curriculum. During his spare time he listens to music and plays handball with Harbor's own Mr. Willey.

The Board of Education, five members in all, has the final say in the big decisions. They make up the ultimate authority determining policies and procedures for the school system.

Board members are Mr. Milton C. Robinson, president; Mr. Addison Goodell, Jr., vice-president; the Rev. Mr. Harold D. Shiflet, Mr. Michael Sullivan, and Mr. William Holmstrom.

Main Office Is Hub for Our School

Mr. Purtilo keeps the school under control during the many changing fads of the students. Before acquiring the principal's position, he was assistant principal for six years at Harbor and was the music supervisor and assistant principal at Pymatuning Valley for three years. He directs a church choir and has taught at Kent State University. Besides bowling and gardening, he likes to do things with his children.

Serving as secretary to Mr. Purtilo is Mrs. Edna Beckman. She has been secretary to the principals for 18 years. She is active in community groups, likes music, reading, all types of sports, and traveling.

Office Supervises Attendance

This is Bill Licate's second year as assistant principal of HHS. He admits that his work is both interesting and frustrating. The assistant principal's job is concerned mainly with affairs of the Harbor students, such as attendance and truancies. Among his many activities Mr. Licate enjoys cooking, playing with his daughter, and playing with railroad trains. He is currently attending night school in order to obtain his superintendent's certificate.

Dolores Forinash, whom Mr. Licate refers to as "his right-hand man", is secretary to the assistant principal. This is her eighth year of secretarial work at HHS. She enjoys golf and bowling.

Counselors Solve Academic and Personal Problems

The Guidance Office sees innumerable changes every day, especially in the students coming in and out of the office every period. The guidance counselors do many jobs along with assisting students and giving PSAT and Merit tests.

Steve Candela (7 years) enjoys hunting and fishing. He taught science and coached sports 6 years at HHS and West Junior High School. Anthony Chiacchiero (2 years) enjoys all sports and carpentry. He is head football coach this year after many years at AHS. Eleanor Andrews, guidance office secretary for 6 years, makes life easier for the guidance counselors by doing college transcripts and averaging grades. She provides shelter for homeless animals that come wandering into her office.

English Teachers Strive to Improve Communication

As we travel along the road of education, the curriculum changes as we grow. We go from grammar to literature and finally out into the world.

Mary Boyce (22 years) teaches senior English and journalism. She enjoys reading, gardening, and traveling. Teaching junior English and Latin is Esther Edeburn (12 years). She likes photography and camping. Coye Wilfong (4 years) teaches sophomore and senior English. He says his interests are rated X. Sewing, gardening, and reading interest Encie Moroski (3 years) who teaches freshman English and speech. Dick Pavolino (3 years)—freshman English—likes sports and American Flyer Trains. Motorcycle riding and bowling interest Gail Workman (2 years)—sophomore English and creative writing. Teaching junior and senior English and dramatics is Frances Flood (2 years). She enjoys reading and trips to Michigan.

The cultural department has changed little. Ray Edeburn (12)—sociology, psychology, economics, and family living—enjoys square dancing. American and Current History—Frank Roskovics is amused by brain teaser puzzles. Michael Lombard (4)—American and World History—has visited East Africa and Rome. Robert Huff (21)—POD—likes tennis and bowling. Human Relations and Business Law—Kurt Nordquest (1)—likes tennis and music. Ben Pandora (1)—World History—enjoys music. Norma Lillie (1)—vocal music—directs the choir and has three children at HHS. Oliver Kaura (17)—directs concert band, and Karl Meinhardt (3)—instructs marching band. Mr. Kaura enjoys vacations; Mr. Meinhardt bowls. Nancy Hunt (4)—art—teaches at the Fine Arts Center. Carolyn Stevenson (5)—Spanish and German—enjoys gardening, and camping. Change in Times Affects Math and Science Teachers

The math and science teachers at Harbor are responsible for changes in their respective fields. Barb Kunes (5)—algebra and geometry—likes to read. Dean McQuaide (3)—pre-algebra, algebra, and Business Math—enjoys sports. Ray Moore (1)—general and shop math—likes to sing. William Wasulko (17)—algebra and advanced math—likes woodworking. Geometry and algebra—John Higgins (4) plays golf and changes diapers. Randy Pope (2)—biology—refinishes furniture. Bowling and gardening interest Harrylee Utz (21)—IPS and chemistry. Robert Josson (1)—IPS and physics—likes music. Andrew Isco (1)—biology—refinishes furniture. Sports interest Ron Chutas (4)—Earth Science.

Specialized Faculty Members Add Interest To H.H.S. Curriculum

There have been many changes in the faculty of the business classes this year.

Teaching engineering and architectural drawing is Wilbert Willey (23 years). He says you would not believe his hobbies! Industrial arts, shop, and drawing are taught by George Puchan (8 years). He likes to read, fish, and bowl. John Rose (3 years) teaches bookkeeping, typing, and General Business. He confesses to no hobbies. First year Edith Reichert teaches shorthand and typing. She is active in the American Association of University Women and Ashtabula Community Concert Association.

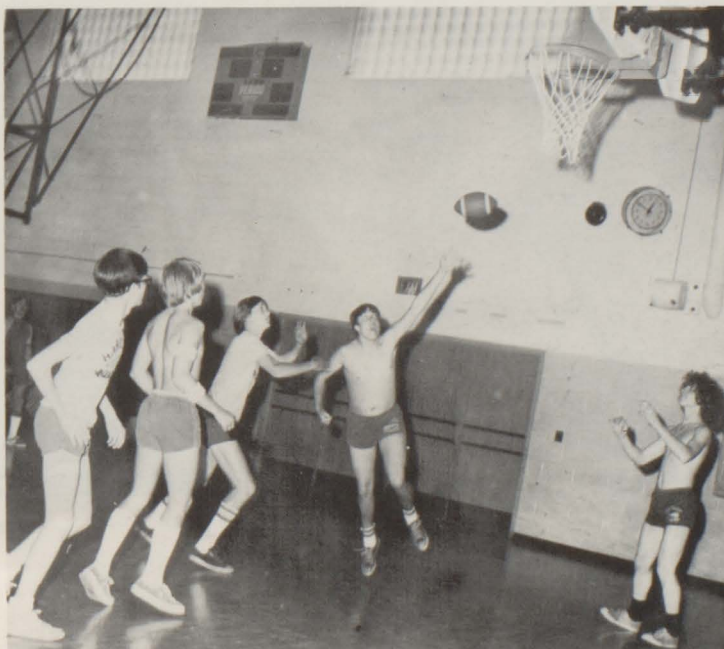

Our home economics and physical education departments have been drastically changed. Rozella Harpst (10 years) teaches home economics and Senior Survey. She enjoys being creative in the kitchen. First year Crena Baker—freshman girls health and physical education—likes to sail and sing. Jennifer Lautanen (1 year) teaches sophomore girls health and physical education. She likes to swim and sew. Sports interest Tony Nappi (3 years) who teaches sophomore health and physical education. Bob Rich (7 years) teaches freshman boys health and physical education and coaches baseball.

Tony Nappi

No, boys. Basketball is played with a ROUND ball!

Specialists Perform Various Services for the Students

In our changing school, we sometimes do not stop to take notice of those behind the scenes until we need them.

Ed Armstrong (11) teaches Special Education and is head basketball coach. He enjoys golf and hunting. Sewing and reading interest Susan In-corvia (4) who teaches Special Educa-tion. With the help of Town and Country, Bob Short (4) is teaching driver training. He enjoys fishing and all sports. Edith Peterson (3) is the nurse for Harbor as well as other area schools. She enjoys sewing. The li-brarians at Harbor Topky Library are Marian Myllymaki, Rita Balog, and Marian Huffman. They serve our school by taking care of all the books and records. They provide Harbor students with materials for classwork and other outside interests. Mary DePiero (2) takes care of all the money in the school. She likes to knit, do creative work, and bake.

Custodians and Cafeteria Ladies Help Fill Our Needs

Behind the scenes at HHS, you will find several hard workers that usually go unnoticed. These people are the custodians and the cafeteria workers.

The custodians come to work long before we even think about getting up and make sure the building is heated, cleaned, and everything in order for a new day. They are on duty in the evening and at special activities.

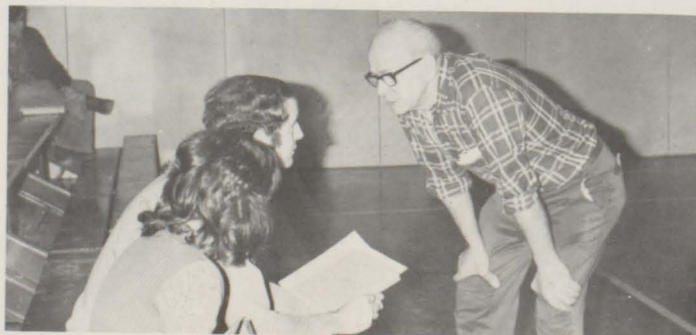

Cafeteria workers come to work before the lunch periods begin, to get ready to serve the two hungry chow lines.

"Spring Gardens" Is Theme

Changing the tradition for the first time, last year's prom was held at the Ashtabula Hotel due to prevention of fire hazards at Fawcett Gymnasium. Beautiful flowers of all kinds and flowing fountains decorated Harbor High School's 1974 Junior-Senior Prom on May 18.

The flowers, both real and artificial, ranged from geraniums to pompom mums. All real flowers, plants, and shrubs were donated by Giraro's and Girard's.

Not another batch of curtains!

Don't cry, Don. Mary thought it was funny.

Karen danced to "Jasper" while Bob danced to "The Good Question."

The ever-popular "The Music Man" by Meredith Wilson was presented last May 10 and 11, 1974. As curtain time approached the night of May 10, the cry backstage was, "Where is Ralph?" Ralph Buona, who portrayed an important character, was delayed in Euclid playing in a sectional tennis tournament. To the great relief of all concerned, he made it just before curtain time. The stage and set crew was not without mishap either as they built the combination foot-bridge and speech platform. An abundance of bruised thumbs and fingers popped up and the ice supply rapidly diminished. The dance chorus had its tribulations as they worked on the "Shipooopi" dance routine, the "76 Trombones" routine and the "Vernon Castle One-Step," which caused a lot of trodden toes. The light crew almost met its match in the cantankerous light board, but the tenacious crew held its own in the process of rewiring. The make-up crew ran into problems all their own as they began to run out of base and rouge.

Barbara Keller Is A.F.S. Student

Barbara Keller comes from Graz, Austria. She resides with the Jerry Spring family at 2917 Rudd Road, and attends school with her American sister, Jeriann, who is a junior. Her hobbies are skiing, playing tennis, horseback riding, and playing the piano.

In many cases, life here differs from Barb's life in Austria. Her school is so crowded that the girls and boys attend classes for five hours each day separately. Teachers change classes instead of the students. Twelve strictly educational subjects are required, and no sports or clubs are offered.

Barb's only complaint was that she wishes all the tests were not on Friday! Besides being able to attend all school functions with free passes, Barb has been given honorary memberships to several organizations. Barb found the food here very much like that in Austria. She likes pizza, hamburgers, potato chips, and brownies. She has found the people of Ashtabula very friendly and wishes that she had time to take advantage of all the kindness extended to her. She is looking forward to skiing at night under the lights, which she has never done before.

M*A*S*H Is A Success

TV watchers and movie-goers were right at home in the HHS auditorium November 15 and 16 as they viewed the junior-senior play, "M*A*S*H," a comedy by Tim Kelly.

The two-act comedy centered around the exploits of the military doctors in the 4077th Mobile Army Surgical Hospital during the Korean War.

When Hawkeye Pierce (Mark Pendleton) and Duke Forrest, (Bob Pozsonyi) joined the crew—trouble began!

The play was under direction of Miss Frances Flood.

Variety Show Is a Big Success

The 34th annual Variety Show, "That's Entertainment," included skits and songs from the Thirties, complete with a chorus line.

Masters of Ceremonies were Blaine McIntyre, Jill Schuman, and Robert Triozzi. They steered the evening's performances.

Senior Women opened the show with "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and presented their Miss Varieties, Paula Dorman.

Vicki Sandberg was introduced as Miss Liberty during "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," sung by the choir.

Quill and Scroll Members Contribute to Publications

Quill and Scroll is an honorary society for high school journalists.

Members must be a junior or senior in the upper third of his class who has made outstanding contribution to the school yearbook or newspaper.

The organization is a great honor to any high school student.

For the first time, two initiation ceremonies were conducted this year.

Miss Mary Boyce, adviser to the yearbook and paper, also advised the club.

One-year members are Row 1: Kim Wood, Amy Metcalf, Eva Jadwisiak. Row 2: Pam Spring, Cindy Maki.

Newspaper Staff Gets The Scoop

The Newspaper Staff, under supervision of Miss Mary Boyce, work hard to bring you the Mariner each month.

With each publication, journalism students collect facts, write news stories, compose headlines, type and measure, take pictures, write captions and lay out pages. Problems arise when the pasteups return and everyone hurriedly works to make sure things fit, columns are lined up, and copy is proofread.

The paper is shipped off again for printing and returned in a few days for distribution. Students help finance the paper by soliciting ads and sponsoring the Variety Show.

Yearbook Staff Works Hard

The ten committees of the yearbook staff work hard all year to meet their deadlines. The Advertising Committee collected ads, sponsors, and patrons as well as collected money from them. Senior Album Committee compiled the directory and placed identified pictures in order. Underclassmen Committee identified students and placed them in order. Activities Committee organized all the clubs in the school. Section Editors worked with their groups to meet deadlines and layout pages. Vo-Ed Committee keeps us informed on activities at the Vo-Ed School.

Band Marches On

The Harbor Band has moved its quarters to Kaleva Lodge, where they keep busy practicing for half-time shows and concerts.

The band started its work early by attending band camp at Rio Grande College in August where they learned new marching techniques and brushed up on old ones.

Mr. Karl Meinhardt directed the band during the football season, providing good entertainment for the audiences.

The concert season, under direction of Mr. Oliver Kaura, kept busy by working on music for the mid-winter, spring, and pops concerts.

Selected band members also attended the Solo and Ensemble Contest.

John Koren, Roger Peck, and Cleo Saddler are three freshman drummers in the band.

Pep Band Provides Music

The Pep band, under student direction of Cindy Maki, played at all the home basketball games and also at the pep assemblies. They played a variety of music from standard marches to modern rock.

Some of their favorite songs were "Fever" and "You've Said It All."

The Band Council is made up of mostly seniors and underclass representatives. They meet with the directors to decide on various activities of the band.

Majorettes Perform Well

This year's majorettes showed off routines that they learned at two camps during the summer.

Julie Stevens, head majorette, led Linda Lee, Barbara Ray, Gerriann Prine, Cindy Diehl, and Debbie Carlson in giving various shows throughout the year, besides entertaining at half-time shows. Shows consisted of twirling fire batons, hoops, flags, sabers, and two batons.

They had a yard sale during the summer and also participated in the annual Tops-in-Talent Show.

A Cappella Choir Entertains School And Public

The choir, under direction of Mrs. Norma Lillie, has gone back to the tradition of having only sophomores, juniors, and seniors in their group.

This year's performances included the Veteran's Day Assembly, the Christmas Meditation, Variety Show, Pops Concert, Easter Assembly, and Spring Concert.

The choir sold Christmas candles and held bake sales to earn money for music.

The madrigals, an independent group, plan their own programs and choose their own music.

Besides singing for various programs in the school, they sing at various organizations in the city. They practice at the home of one of the members twice a week.

Student Council Helps Spirit

The Student Council creates a co-operative spirit between the students and the faculty, coordinates all student activities in a manner which best promotes the interest of the school, and acts as a government to express the ideas of the students.

This year the council sponsored a mid-January dance and participated in the Senior Recognition Day, Spring Clean-up Day, and the special Student Council Week, along with many other activities.

The council is under direction of Mr. Robert Huff.

FTA Prepares For Future Of Its Members

The Future Teachers of America, assisted by Mr. Raymond Edeburn, is a program for students interested in teaching.

The club taught in elementary schools while the teachers were at meetings, attended PTA meetings, took a field trip to a college, and sponsored a Christmas party for the crippled children.

The members had a Halloween party and held their annual awards picnic at the end of the year.

Officers were Vicki Sandberg, president; Pam Spring, vice-president; Leslie Eller, secretary; and Joni Leikas, treasurer.

Math Club Always Has The Answer

The Math Club, under the supervision of Miss Barbara Kunes, is designed to stimulate interest in the field of mathematics and take advantage of outside enrichment in this area.

The club took several field trips to colleges where they heard lectures on mathematics and toured the campuses.

They also sponsored a National Mathematics Test in the spring.

German Club Acquaints Students With Customs

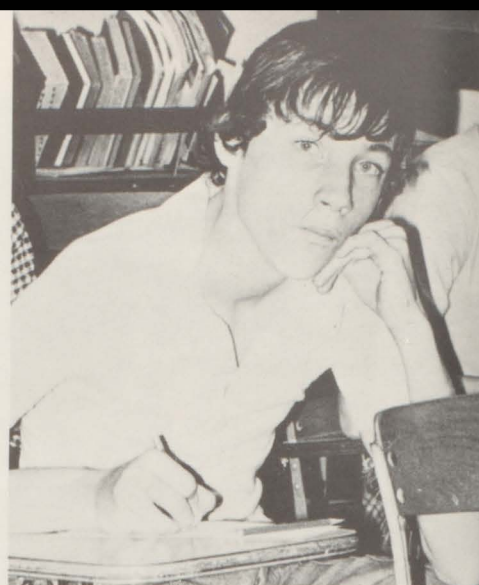

Die Deutsche Verein members, under the supervision of Mrs. Carolyn Stevenson, meet to promote interest in the German language and its culture among the students of the German language.

The club attended the German functions at nearby colleges and competed in the annual German skit contest held at Heidelberg University in Tiffin, Ohio.

The club is affiliated with the Ohio Federation of Students of German and the National Federation of Students of German.

Senior Men Get to Work

The Senior Men's Club is a service club to which most of the boys in the senior class belong. The club provides the chance for the boys to work together as a group outside of classes.

This year, the club sponsored a magician show to raise money for club expenses.

They also purchased Senior Men T-shirts bearing the club emblem.

Officers were James Bradley, president; Bruce Johnson, vice president; Bob Jopperi, secretary; and Andy Thomas, treasurer.

GAA Volleys for Sportsmanship

The Girls' Athletic Association gives girls a chance to participate in sports by having intramural teams and promotes good sportsmanship.

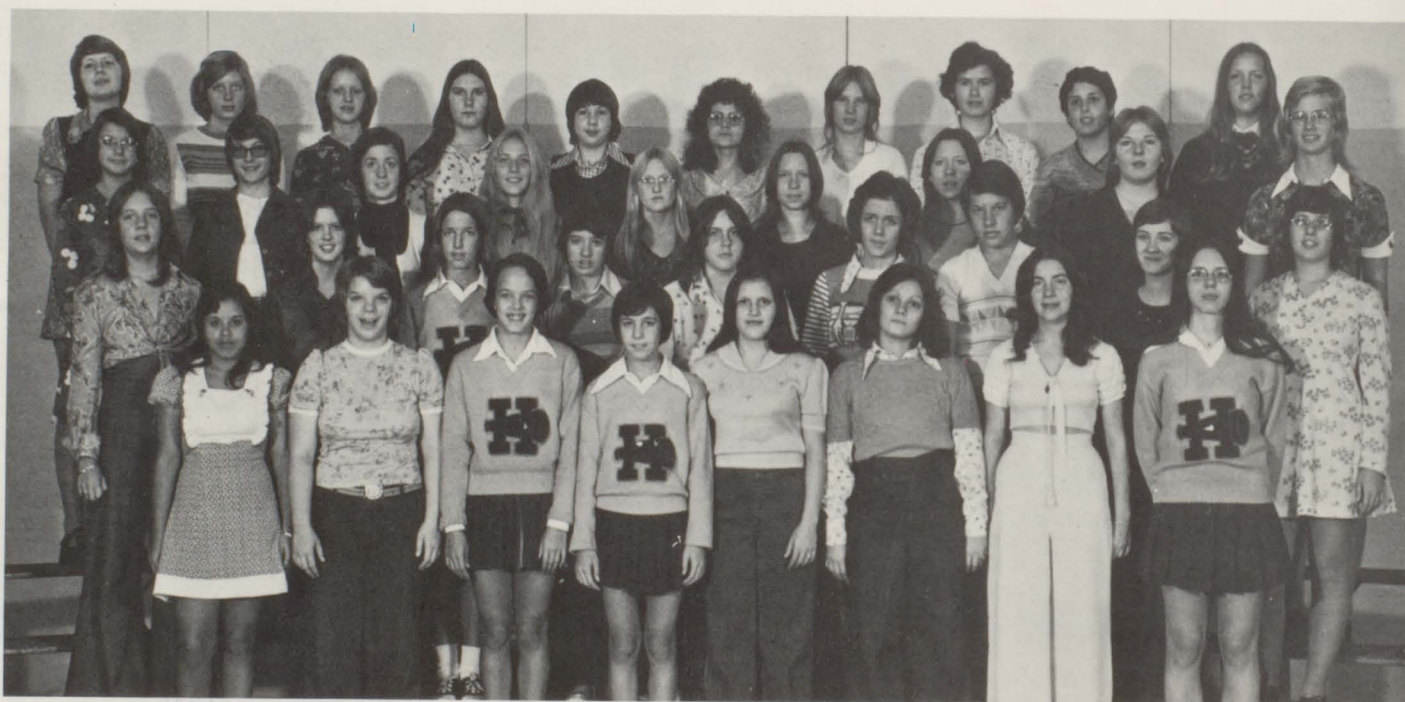

Each year, they sponsor the inter-class tournaments which are held each year in the spring.

This year they sponsored a roller skating party and sold recycled stationery to raise money.

Mariner Sluggers Bat in a 12-6 Winning Record

In spite of being a young team, with only 3 seniors, the Mariners still managed an outstanding '74 season with a winning record of 12-6, thus becoming the NEC Co-Champions and the City Series Champions. The team, coached by Bob Rich and Bob Short, was led by the experienced playing abilities of Albert Anderson, Josh Sheldon, and Joe Timonere.

Coach Rich proclaimed the outstanding players as being senior Josh Sheldon and juniors Scott Gaines and Tom Karkutt.

Josh Sheldon was awarded Most Valuable Player and Highest Batting Average. Scott Gaines received the Most Valuable Pitcher award for his 5-0 pitching record. Tom Karkutt was right behind Josh with the second highest batting average on the team.

Cindermen Succeed in Victory!

The 1974 Harbor track team, coached by John Higgins with the assistance of Ron Chutas and Dean McQuaide, enjoyed a good season with an 8-0 record in dual meets. They placed third in the NEC and second in the City Series. In the collective meets Harbor managed a respectable showing in many events. They ranked second in the Hexagonals, seventh in the Mentor Relays, and at the Hiram District meet five qualified for the Kent Regionals.

Leading the Mariners were sprinters Byron Sargent and Dave Cook; hurdlers Chris Coxe, Kaiser Holman, and Al Crockett; runners in the 440 Keith Reinker and Paul Rennick; runners in the 2 mile Larry Ende and Clay Shick; pole vaulter Scott Mosier; shotputters Paul Rennick and Richard Holman; discus throwers Greg Schlaich and Richard Holman; and high jumper, Carl Turner, who broke the NEC high jump record.

Coach Higgins had this to say about the team, "We had a good season, but it could have been outstanding if the weather had cooperated and a few breaks had gone our way."

A very determined Richard Holman.

Racketers Continue Winning

The 1973-1974 Mariner tennis team continued the winning tradition with an overall season record of 12 wins and 4 losses, placing second in the NEC and winning the City Series Championships 4-0. Co-captains for the year were Mark Starkey and Steve Reichert.

Mark, the most valuable player, won in the sectionals and districts and went on to State Tournament. Steve, the recipient of the R. L. Huff Award, teamed up with Ralph Buona for an outstanding doubles combination. Lenny Lee was recognized as the outstanding single.

The highlight of the regular season was the weekend trip to Canton where they battled with Canton Lehman, Urbana, and Cuyahoga Falls.

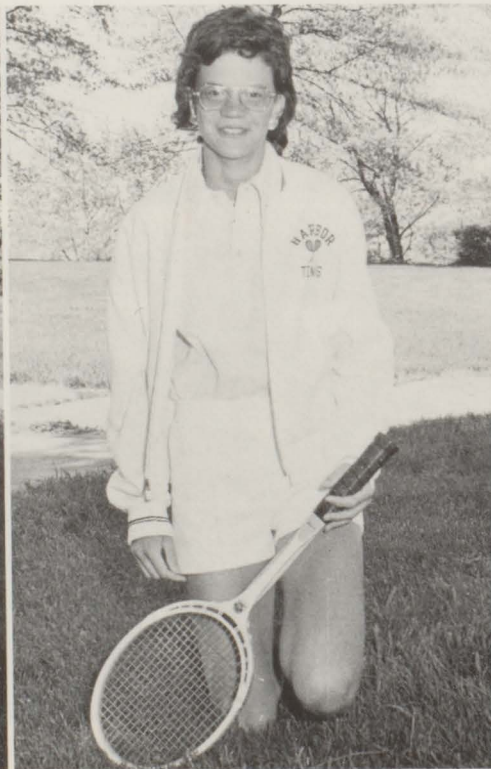

A change in past years came about with the addition of several female racketers to the team. Two of these, Sue Andrews and Carol Bartone, played excellent singles and doubles.

Golfers First in State Sectional Tournaments

The 1974 spring golf team, coached by Mr. William Wasulko, came in first in the State Sectional Tournaments.

Lead scorers for the sectional meet were Charles Redmond, Greg DelPrince, Mike Nierzejewski, and John Lillvis.

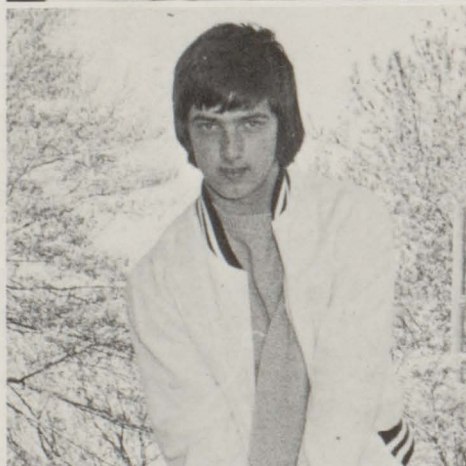

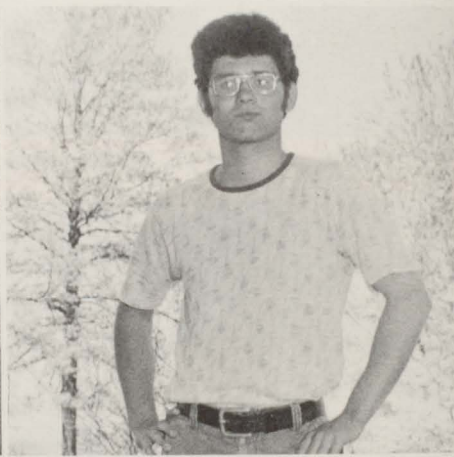

The Seamen won first place in the NEC tournament in May.

The team opened the 1974 season by beating Perry, Bula, and Edgewood. They then went on to defeat Geneva, St. John, and Madison.

The team did very well and expects to continue to be successful next year.

Harriers Finish with 6-1 Record

The Mariner cross country team had a very successful season finishing with a 6-1 record, third in the NEC.

Coach Dean McQuaide enjoyed working with the team and said that this was the first year that Harbor has shut out Bula since he has been coach. The team attended a summer running camp, which helped the team tremendously.

Besides area meets, the team ran in scrimmages, the Kirtland Invitational, Perry Invitational, and the Gilmour Invitational.

At the NEC meet, the Harbor runners placed third, behind Madison and Geneva.

Outstanding runners this year were Larry Ende and Joel Bossley.

Senior members included Kevin Lillie, Lenny Lee, and Jim Bossley.

Larry Ende missed qualifying for the state competition by only a hair.

Gridders Give New Coach 6-4 Record

The 1974 football squad under the coaching of Mr. Anthony Chiacchiero ended the season in second place in the NEC with an overall record of 6-4-0.

The team showed great spirit and almost had the NEC title in their hands before falling to Ashtabula.

JV's Earn Experience

The junior varsity football team ended their season with a 1-1-2 standing.

The JV's tied 0-0 with Conneaut and Edgewood, won against Riverside, and lost to Madison.

Bob Pozsonyi received a 27-yard touchdown pass from Randy Lundi for the winning 6 points against Riverside.

Coaches this year were Mr. Randy Pope and Mr. Ron Chutas.

The team plans to do better next year with determination to win more games.

The freshman football team started out slowly but ended the year with a 2-5 record. Coaches Richard Pavolino and John Rose determined the losses from lack of experience, even though the boys had a lot of spirit and enthusiasm.

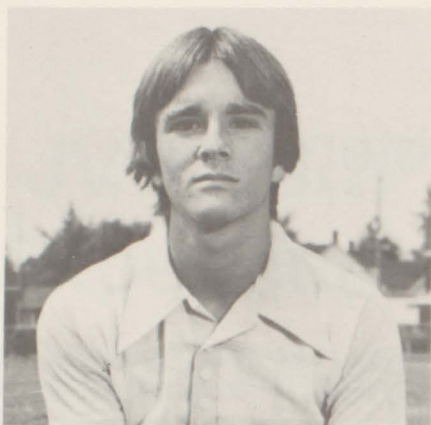

Though the freshmen suffered defeats, Joe Chiacchiero, Max Holman, and Tony Sallee played well. The players expect to really improve next year through determination and hard practice.

Golf has now become a fall sport due to the bad weather in the spring.

The 1974 golf team, coached by William Wasulko, helps to build character and citizenship as well as provide enjoyment to its members.

The team ended its 1974 season with a losing record of 6-7-2. They lost their openers to Conneaut and Riverside, tied with Edgewood, and finally beat Madison and Perry.

The team fell to St. John, beat

Geneva, and lost again to Ashtabula. Harbor placed second in the NEC match and placed 6th in the State Sectionals.

Greg DelPrince had the best overall record for the season with a 38.9 average.

Team members for fall included Greg DelPrince, Chuck Anderson, Nelson Benedict, Chris Palm, Kip McCullough, Doug Stark, and Scott DeHelian.

Cheerleaders Keep Spirit Thriving

The Varsity cheerleaders kept the school in spirit throughout the year by planning all the pep assemblies and other spirit activities.

They put candy in the guys' lockers along with small signs. For the important games they decorated the players' houses with huge signs and various other decorations.

During the school year, they held bake sales, sold mums for homecoming, and held a coupon drive.

They presented each senior football player with a scrapbook which the senior women helped assemble. They made similar presentation to the basketball players.

This year, they painted the Mariner during the summer—a long overdue task.

JV and Frosh Cheerleaders Lead Fans

The junior varsity cheerleaders went to Hiram College where they learned about fund raising ideas, how to raise school spirit, and learned new skits, cheers, and pom pom routines.

They also attended the NEC Football Cheerleading Clinic at Edgewood, where they shared ideas with other squads.

They helped out with the coupon drive and various other activities.

The freshman cheerleaders did their best to bring spirit to the school and also helped out the other cheerleaders when needed.

Both squads worked hard this year and showed great spirit and enthusiasm at all games, assemblies, and other special projects.

They are under the supervision of Miss Barbara Kunes.

Cheerleaders Boost Harbor Fans' Spirit

The varsity wrestling cheerleaders keep busy during the wrestling season by promoting spirit during the pep assemblies and cheering the matmen on to victory during the matches.

They are chosen after tryouts in the fall and carry on activities similar to the other cheerleaders. Special cheers are made up to pertain to the sport, but regular cheers are also used.

The four cheerleaders attended a clinic during the winter where they learned various new floor and sideline cheers.

Helping out the other cheerleaders with money-making projects held throughout the year are also some of the undertakings of the group. For the bigger wrestling matches, they decorate the matmen's lockers with signs and different types of decorations.

Matmen Suffer from Lack of Members

The 1974-75 matmen found the season to be a little disappointing, but the team showed excellent skill on the mats.

The team traveled to West Virginia in the fall for the East Liverpool Invitational tournament, taking third place.

The starting lineup for the year was Steve Womble (98 lb. class), Ed Sanborn (105), Chip Goodell (119), Jim Bossley (126), Tom Zappitelli and Micki McElroy (132), Randy Jones (138), Randy Lundi (145), Francis Colling (155), Paul Clark (167) Rainer Kangas (175), Tony Romano (185), and Brett Horvath (HWT.)

Steve Womble and Francis Colling had the team's better records during the wrestling season.

With a little more effort and experience the squad should be ready for a good season next year.

Coaches this year were Mr. Dean McQuaide and Mr. John Rose.

Power and Strength Carry Mariners Through

The Varsity basketball squad started the season in a flurry but hit a cold spot midway through the season, when Alan Ziegler was put out for the remainder of the games with a broken wrist.

In a sold out game with Geneva, the cagers lost 50-49 in overtime and lost the NEC title.

Best defensive players for the year were Kevin Lillie and Alan Ziegler, best offensive player was James Bradley, and most improved was Dan Juhola.

Coach Ed Armstrong commented that the players were outstanding throughout the season, and other varsity players were close to achieving the abilities that Kevin, Alan, James, and Dan had achieved. Basketball should be one of Harbor's better sports next year.

Senior squad members included Jim Bradley, Ray Henton, Kevin Lillie, Alan Ziegler, Ken Williams, and Byron Sargent.

The team is looking forward to a good season next year.

The 1974-75 Junior Varsity basketball team had a fine season and basketball looks bright for the years to come.

The team had a good year. Coach Mr. Robert Short comments the success this year can be attributed to a solid team effort. The team improved in most phases of the game. They may not have had a great deal of height but what they lack they make up for in hustle and desire.

The season has been one the boys can be proud of and can look forward to a good season in 1975-76.

Success Shines On Freshmen

The freshman basketball squad may have been small in number, but there were a number of talented players.

Max Holman was the leading scorer in most of the games with Marc Pope and Darrell Sargent well out in front in shooting percentages. Both Marc and Darrell led in rebounds also.

Joe Chiacchiero led the squad for the year with the highest number of assists.

Coach Higgins said the wingmen must play sound defense and be capable of snagging long rebounds. Alternating at these two positions were Tony Sallee, David Tremblay, Cleo Saddler, Don DiDonato, and Dennis Sparks.

The frosh had a good season, and each player contributed in one way or another during the season.

Girls Enter Volleyball Competition

After a long struggle in a man's world, the women—at least in the HHS athletic program—are finally making progress. One of the most recent accomplishments at Harbor was the formation of the Girls' Varsity and JV Volleyball teams.

The teams of nine were chosen after several days of tryouts. They play competitive games against teams from other area schools throughout the year.

Diane anxiously awaits the serve.

Sue Powell, Terry Huskonen, Allison Kurnava, Liz Luoma, Terry Imbrogno, Glyndora Daniels, Bonnie Dibell, Cheryl Carpenter.

Barb Woodard, Sheri DeHelian, Mary Jo Stroeter, Sharon Anderson, Jeanine Bartlett. Row 2: Cindy Rehrig, Carol Clint, Betsy Mackey, Diane Bracken.

Co-Editors Reflect: "We're Glad We're Through . . .".

This year has been a hectic one for us. The yearbook was a bigger job than we had thought, but we both managed to survive.

Of course, we could not have put this book together without the help and cooperation of many people and all the organization from previous years' experience. We would like to thank all of our section editors and their staffs, the offices, the teachers, Mr. Huff (for letting us out of his class so much), and especially Miss Boyce, our adviser. Thanks also go to Mr. John Fowley, our yearbook representative.

Throughout the school year it sometimes seemed as though the problems were insurmountable. By resourceful staff members and a helping hand by Ron Hornbeck, a former Harbor yearbook photographer, we performed miracles and met all our deadlines. Whatever problems we encountered during the year now fade away and seem unimportant when we consider how much we learned and what we have to show for it. It feels good to know we have contributed something lasting and worthwhile during the school year. It certainly was an experience we won't soon forget.

Meg will do anything to sell a yearbook.

Laura, what are you doing in Ken's dark room?

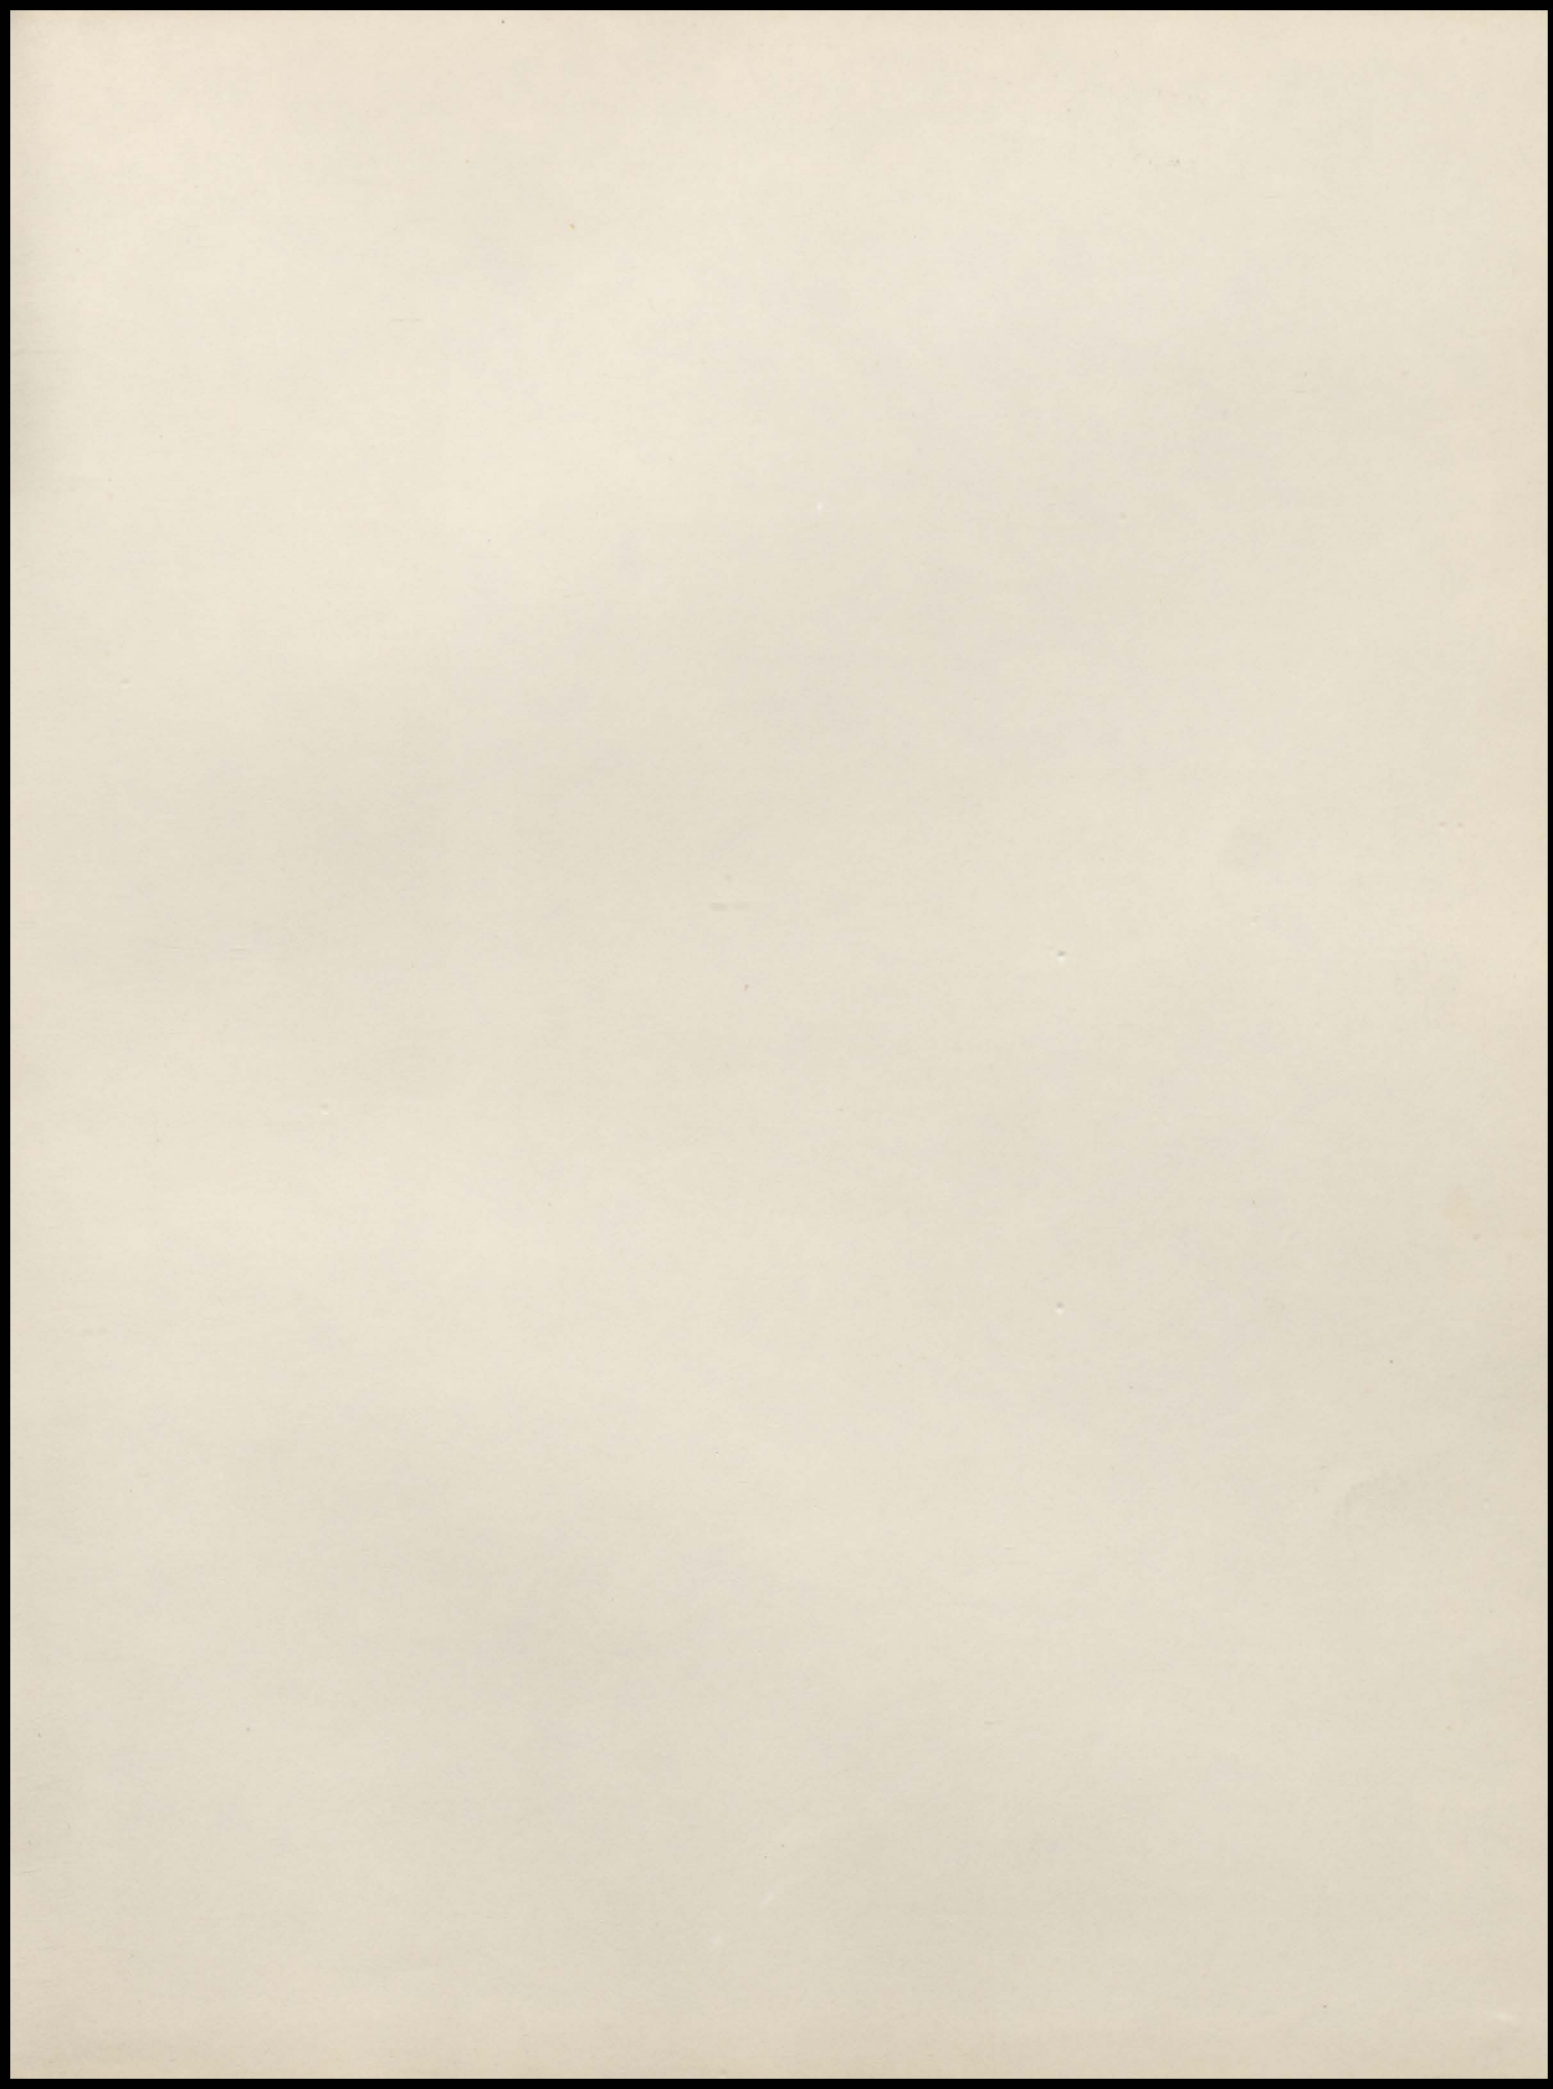

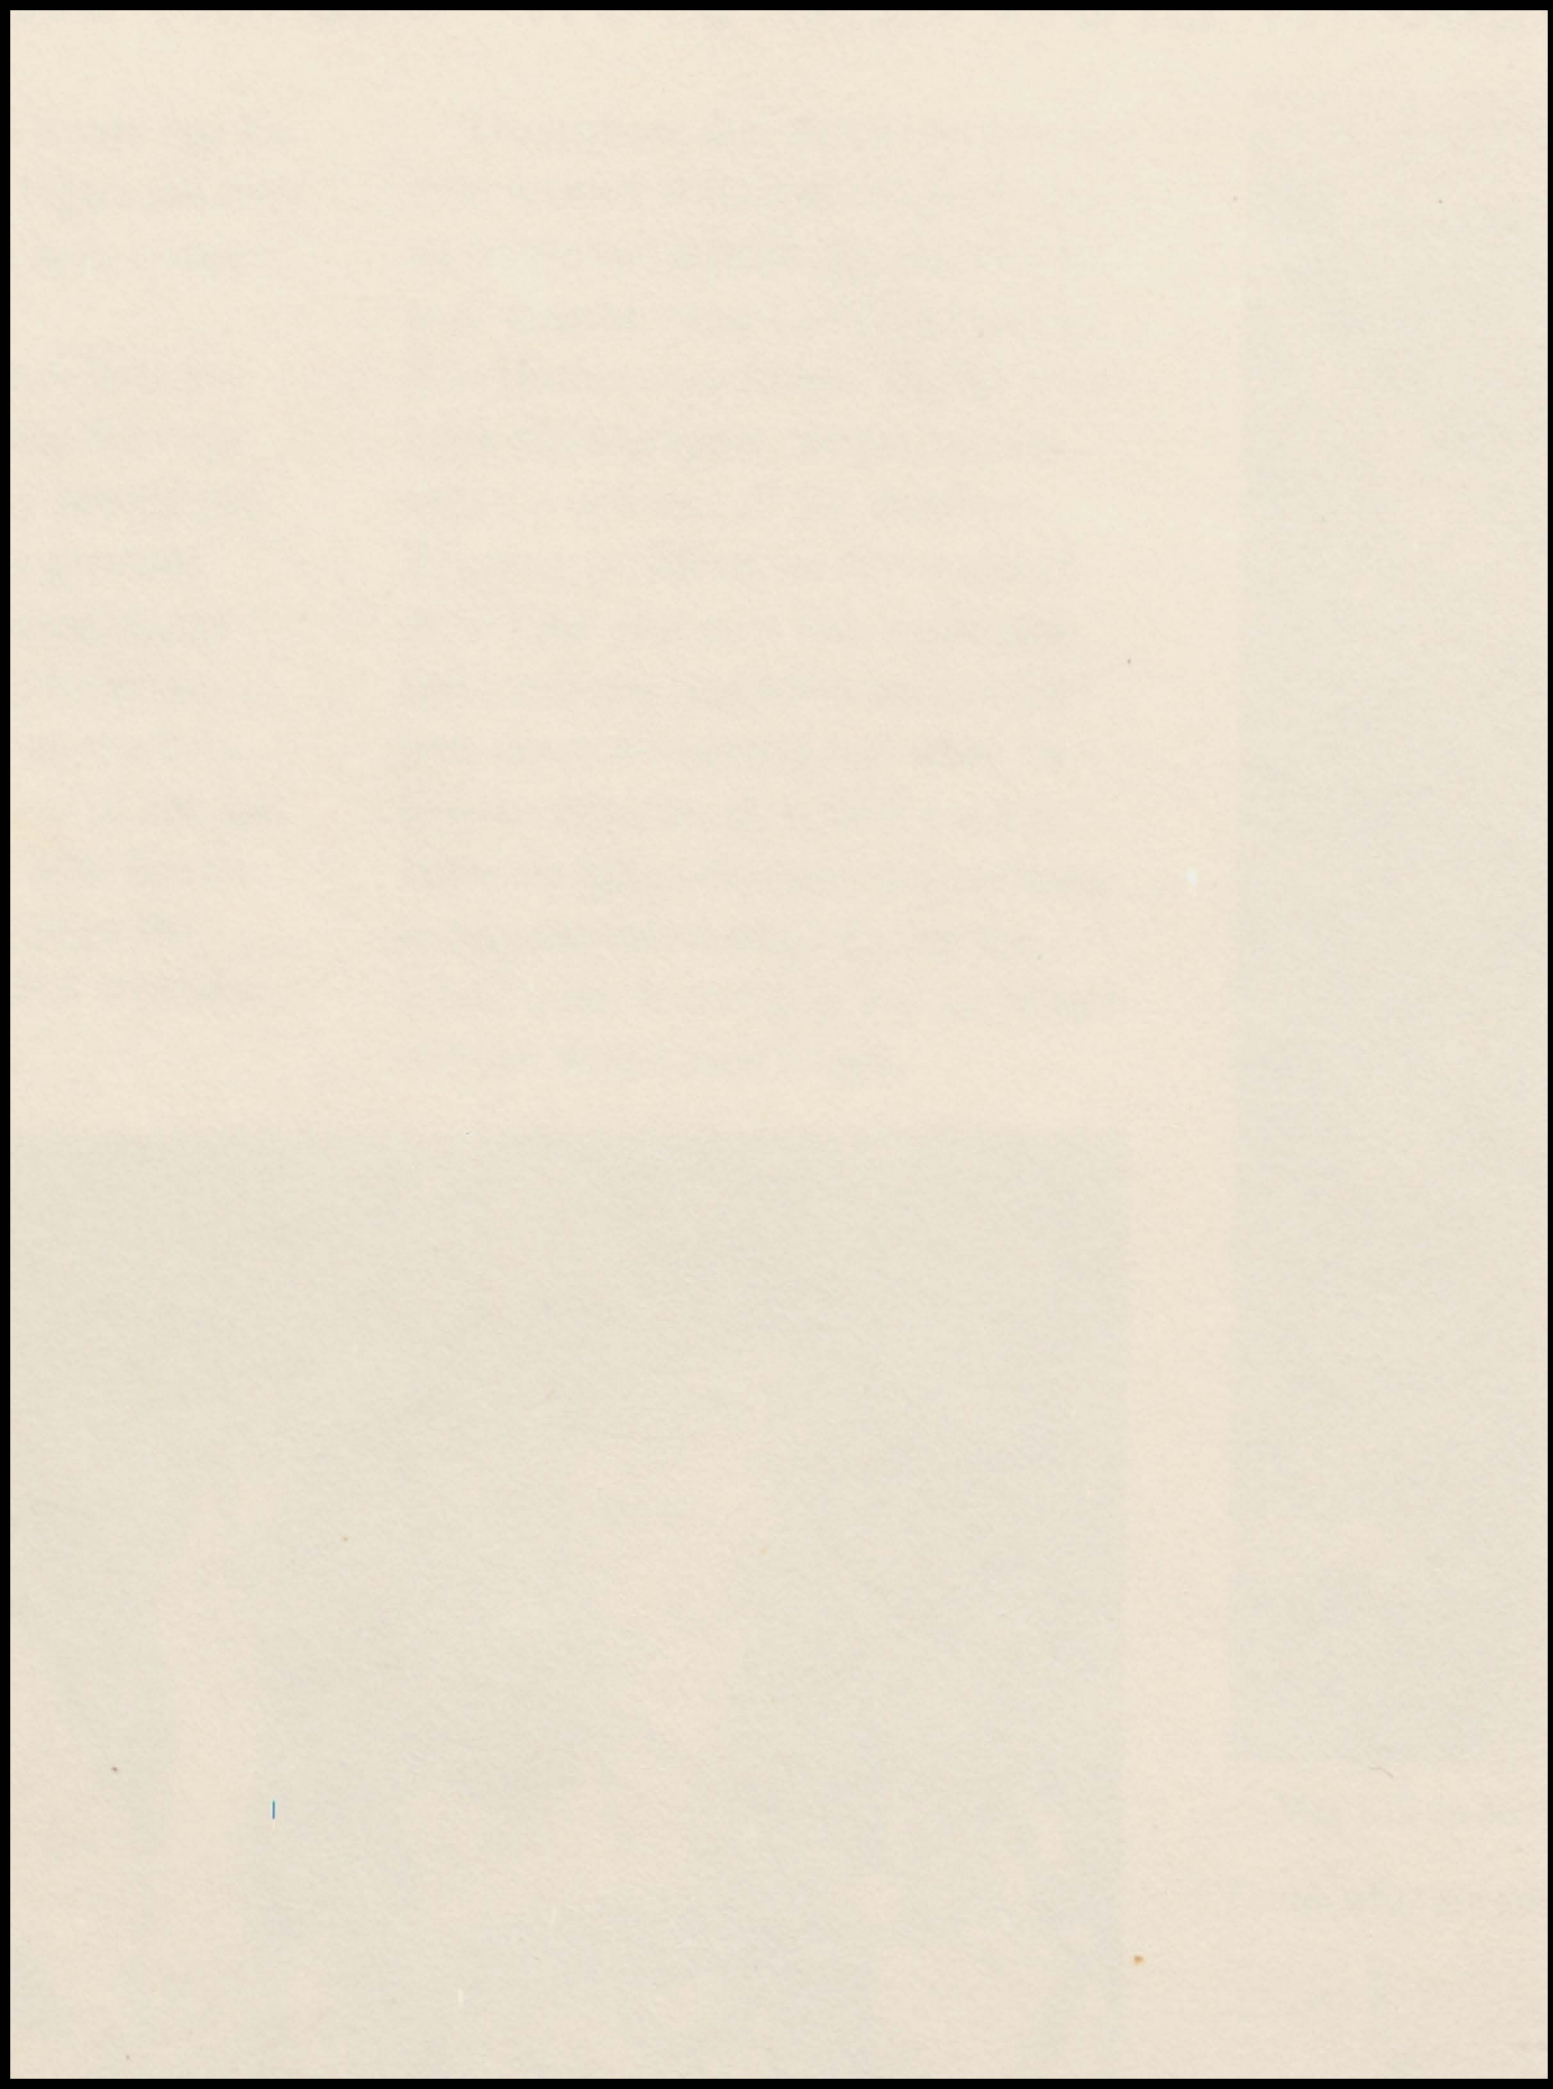

No, Laura, you crop pictures with that, not your face.
